Shareable Ink Welcomes Hal Andrews as Chief Executive Officer

Innovative Technology Addresses Today's Healthcare Challenges

Nashville, TN (March 31, 2015) -- Shareable Ink®, an enterprise cloud-based platform that simplifies clinical documentation at the point-of-care, has named Hal Andrews as the Chief Executive Officer, effective immediately. Andrews is a healthcare industry veteran and has served on the board of Shareable Ink since 2010.

"Shareable Ink is uniquely positioned to leverage it's clinical capture platform allowing healthcare organizations to meet today's documentation and data needs without compromising clinical productivity or patient care" says Andrews.   Last month, Shareable Ink launched ShareQuality, allowing anesthesia groups to meet new quality reporting requirements and protect reimbursements, while preserving workflow and the provider-patient relationship.

This transition comes following the resignation of Laurie McGraw, former Allscripts executive, who held the position since 2013.

Hal most recently served as Vice President and General Manager, Hospital Solutions for Availity, one of the nation's leading health information networks. Prior to joining Availity in June 2014, Mr. Andrews served as Chairman of the Board of Directors, President and CEO of RevPoint Healthcare Technologies, Inc. until its sale to Availity in May 2014. In addition, Mr. Andrews serves on the Board of Directors of Lincor Solutions (www.lincor.com) and CurateHealth, LLC (www.curatehealth.me). Andrews is also a member of the Advisory Board of the Nashville Capital Network (www.nashvillecapital.com).
